Subject: Disappointed in Microsoft Settlement

It really is a shame to see big business act the way Microsoft behaves. If all the AG's and Justice would take a hard look at the nose thumbing that Microsoft performed with XP, you would see blatant disregard for any laws. Why did the settlement come after WinXP was released? Microsoft rushed the release because once the cat was out of the bag, no one was going to put it bag in. Look at all the added software that XP has included. This exactly the same argument as the browser tying issue.

I want everyone to take a look around themselves and examine the impact that Microsoft has on every element of society. Is this good? If you answered yes, then it will only get worse. (i.e. Xbox, Passport, MSN browser lockout, Windows Media Player music files on CD, list goes on). If you think that it is unhealthy for one company to dictate how we live and use their power to cripple consumer decisions, then the settlement as we know it must be adjusted for harsher terms.
